

Cold brew based on green tea

For those who want to make the most of the last summer days before drifting into the autumn realm filled with colorful leaves, we have something special. Here's a recipe for a drink that will quench your thirst perfectly! If you're looking for refreshment, reach for cold brew with rose water. The combination of green tea, hibiscus, and rose petals guarantees a delicious refreshment. You will surely enjoy it!

INGREDIENTS

- 1 tablespoon of high-quality green tea
- 2 tablespoons of hibiscus
- 1 tablespoon of Jasmeen rose water
- 1 tablespoon of rose petals

Preparation:

All the ingredients: green tea, hibiscus, rose petals, and rose water are placed into a large pitcher. Then, we pour cold water over everything and leave it in the fridge overnight. In the morning, we strain the drink through a sieve (if we don't have a special pitcher with a strainer). Serve with ice.
